A high-quality photograph of a Salomon Advanced Cross sneaker. The shoe is primarily black with a white midsole and a white section on the heel. It features a mesh upper with black overlays and black laces. The Salomon logo is visible on the tongue. The shoe is positioned on a rugged, dark rock surface, with warm, golden light illuminating it from the side, creating strong highlights and shadows. The background consists of more rocks, some of which are lit by the same warm light, while others are in deep shadow.
